Publish Internal Policies, Work Manuals, Reports and Strategic Plans
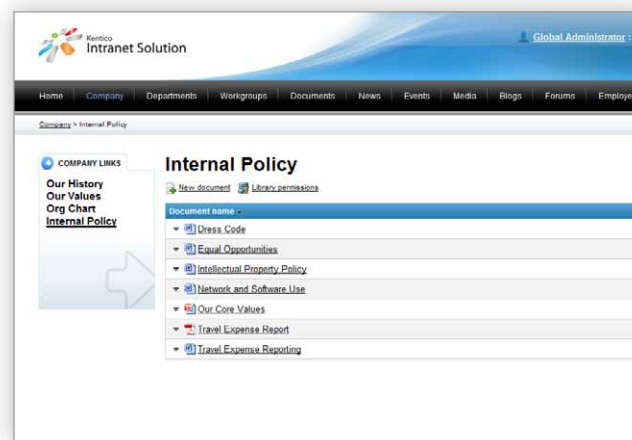

Kentico Intranet Solution allows you to easily publish documents on your intranet and keep them updated. The seamless integration with Microsoft Office allows you to easily open, edit and save the documents from your browser, without any additional steps. You can control the document access and lifecycle using permissions, workflow and versioning.

Quickly Find What and Who You Want

All content published on your intranet can be quickly searched. So, you can easily find documents you need, you can find answers in forums or blog posts, you can find contact information of employees and more.

Get Complete Control over Published Content

Every document can be secured so that only authorized people can read it or update it. You can also enforce an approval process for every document published on the intranet to make sure the employees get only information that was reviewed by management.

Enable Project Collaboration and Task Management

Kentico Intranet Solution allows you to easily create projects, invite project members, manage project tasks and keep track of their status to make sure you're on the way to meet the deadline.
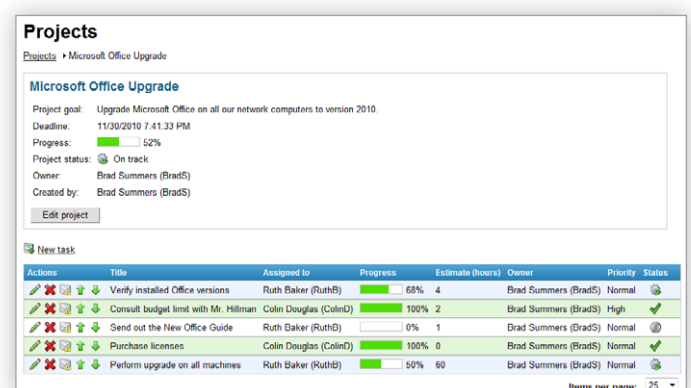

Keep Your Employees Updated On What's Going On

You can publish company news, internal blog or planned events to make sure your employees are up-to-date on what's going on in your company, on the planned changes or your company success stories.

Create Departmental Sites Managed by Their Members

With Kentico Intranet Solution, you can delegate content management to your departments and let them manage their own sites, without waiting until someone from management or IT team publishes their content. It means faster and more efficient information exchange within your company.

Get Easy Access to Practical Daily Information, such as Employee Directory, Phone Book or Canteen Menu

Make your intranet a place your employees will love to visit every day. Provide them with information they need and save their time. Whether it's employee directory, org chart, phone book or something as trivial as canteen menu, useful information and applications will not only make your employees more productive, but also increase the adoption of your new intranet.

Enable Effective Team Collaboration

With Workgroups, any employee can create a team space, invite members, share ideas through blogs, forums, news or project tasks. With Workgroups, the team collaboration gets a new dimension.

Create Dashboards with Key Performance Indicators with Current Numbers from Your Information Systems

Intranet is the perfect place to show how every department, team or employee is doing. You can easily aggregate data from your internal systems and create powerful dashboards that will give you an immediate overview of your company's results.

Manage Intranet in Multiple Languages

With Kentico Intranet Solution, you can easily localize content into each language your company is using. You can translate documents, pages, news, blogs, etc.

...has continued to grow and meet our changing needs. We have thus far created three major intranets using previous versions of the CMS, and in each case our clients have been very happy with the platform, particularly the way that users find the editing and administrative interfaces so easy to use.

Whatever an intranet can do on paper, to be useful it must be usable, it must engage users and encourage them to come back to perform their everyday tasks. By making life easy for designers, Kentico has allowed us to create intranets with very high design values and a uniquely friendly character. Now with the release of the dedicated intranet portal template, Kentico have created a solid platform for supporting team collaboration and business processes. We believe that this combination of flexibility, user-friendliness and a powerful dedicated intranet feature set will see Kentico progress to become a serious player in the intranet market.

Customize the Design and Structure of Your Intranet

Kentico Intranet Solution comes with a set of prepared color themes and you can choose one or define your own style. You have full control over the navigation and intranet structure

Enable E-learning

Since Kentico Intranet Solution supports all kinds of media, you can easily publish all your training materials, whether it's a Word document, PDF, PowerPoint or even video or voice recording. Not only you save on print, but you will also make sure that your know-how can be only accessed by those who should get it and your staff always has the latest version.

Kentico and SharePoint - Use the Best from Both Products

Kentico CMS was built as a flexible Content Management System that allows you to manage your intranet pages and easily integrate additional features either using the built-in modules or using your custom code. SharePoint was built as a document management solution that allows you to organize your files. If you're already using SharePoint but do not find it flexible for intranet content management, you can use the Kentico CMS SharePoint Connector and display documents and other content from SharePoint within your intranet running on Kentico CMS.

Enjoy Unlimited Intranet Possibilities

With Kentico Intranet Solution, you can easily deploy your intranet across whole company and even your business partners. There are no limits in how, where and who can use it.
